Odds and Ends of Gossip.

A Batter Cake for all.

After all this vicious kickin' us mortals here have done
'Bout the wiltin' of the corn crap in th' parchin' rays o' sun,
I notice that it's comin' out—th' tassels waivin' high,
Like they's bowin' to the angels in the windows o' the sky,
An' it's certain that us fellers who hev bin a bit falorn
'Cause th' sunshine was a-strayin' through our fields o' growin' corn
Will gether lots o' golden grain—an' the wimmen folks kin bake
Ev'ry feller in the weary worl' a large-size batter cake.

I've never doubted that I'd git my sheer o' daily bread,
Though I am like mos' other folks—git notions in my head
That things ain't movin' right along in the usual sort o' way—
A weakness in the clock work of the everlastin' day—
But I've always had an idea that the old earth wud provide Us fellers with sufficient bread to make us satisfied,
An' since the corn crap's comin' don't you feel like sayin' "bake,
Ev'ry feller in the weary worl' a large size batter cake."

—Rogers Gore in LaRue Herald.

TOBACCO—Tobacco growers of the county who are just now beginning the cutting of their crop are very much encouraged over the prospect of having a valuable crop of the weed, which goes to show what a little change in the weather will do. Some few weeks ago the tobacco men were away down in the mouth. The dry weather had textually ruined everything; there would not be half a crop; and he was going to quit raising the stuff anyway; was what he cried, but now he feels quite different and says that the tobacco business is not such a bad business after all. By the way, it is gradually developing that the corn crop of the county is not such a failure after all and there are fields of corn in the county that look as promising as one could wish. Of course the crops would have been raised if it had not rained, but then it did rain and the country is saved.

MCHORD—Mr. C. C. McChord of this place who is Chairman of the Kentucky Board of Railroad Commissioners, will leave next week for Ashville N. C. to attend the annual convention of the Southern Association of Railroad Commissioners. Mr. McChord has received a letter stating that the chairman and secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission will attend the convention. Mr. McChord has prepared a code of by-laws which he will present. And he has made a special study of matters pertaining to the duties of a railroad commission and is considered authority on many such questions.

EXPERIENCES—They do say that the Knights Templar and many other good citizens from this place who attended the Conclave last week had the time of their lives and many are the startling experiences they enjoyed, some of which are related and others—well others are not told promiscuously. Those Knights who took part in the big parade are a unit in the opinion that it was hard work and in the future they will, if possible, fight shy of long marches. The many pleasant occasions however which followed that first day of marching more than offset that hardship. Probably the most memorable experiences of any of the Springfield Knights was that of Sir Knight S. T. Noe who startled his friends by getting married—an account of which affair appears in our news columns this week. Another Sir Knight was so unfortunate as to lose his gold watch in the shuffle, while it is told of another young man from here that he created a sensation by falling from a street car while in motion and doing a few stunts on the asphalt pavement, such as standing on one ear, much to the edification of a crowd of onlookers.

WONDERFUL LIE—The Harrodsburg Democrat of last week contained the following item.

"A young lady at Springfield, writing to her aunt here, graphically tells of an amazing state of affairs that has been unearthed in that town. She says to effect that for some time the water in the reservoir there has been so odoriferous that a tan-yard smell was like at'ar of roses in comparison, and that it became so nauseating that people refused to longer drink it. Then the lake was drained, and the bodies of eight partly decomposed infants were found in it."

We don't believe that there is a young lady who calls this her home that is posessed of such a Munchausen imagination or whose mind runs in such a channel as that indicated by the above statement. Consequently the author of the remarkable news must be a Harrodsburg product. Or perhaps its simply Walton turned loose or may be Pulliam, he of the snake and ghost story fame, has turned loose again. Any way it don't do any particular harm, for no one believes it except a few fool country papers such as the Danville Advocate, which reproduced the lie.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP.

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Tobacco Market.

No sales were made held on Tuesday on account of the Conclave parade, and the omission of this one day seemed to demoralize things, offerings being in different and buyers in much the same humor. An unusual small proportion of good to fine tobacco appeared on the market, and the inferior offerings made things a little dragy. Everything sold easier there was not enough good to fine on offer to fairly estimate the market on this kind, but the lower grades, especially below $7 were easier. About the only good feature to the market was sales of common to medium tobaccos with good color, and these had to be in faultless condition to bring satisfactory prices.—Weed.

Cured Chronic Dyspepsia and Liver Trouble After Thirty Years of Suffering.

I suffered thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured, says John S. Halloway of French Camp Miss. I had so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was set free from the effects of diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor could not even travel, but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlin's Cholic, Cholera and diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so well pleased with the result that I am anxious that it be placed in the reach of all who suffer as I have. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

The Cat Came Back.

During the wee small hours of Sunday morning, August 4, fire broke out in the kitchen of the Allin house on Danville avenue occupied at the time by Mrs. Rosa Payne and daughter. On the morning of the blaze a pet Maltese cat belonging to the latter awakened the sleepers by its terrific cries of fright and clawing on the door of their apartment. They got up looked into the kitchen and found the fire, and thereby probably escaped the horrible fate of suffocation. After doing this good deed the Maltese disappeared and was never again seen by the ladies until yesterday, when it showed up looking well and hearty. Mrs. Payne and daughter were packing to remove to Paris the next day, and the question naturally arises how did the cat know it, and come back so it could be taken along.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Declines a Job

The officers of the Treasury Department to day had a strange experience. A few months ago in making a selection from one of the eligible registers of bookkeepers at the Civil service Commission, their attention was attracted by the most excellent papers of a young man from Atlanta Ga., and as they were so business like and presented such a neat appearance, he was selected and tendered a position at $660 a year. In due course of time the department received a communication stating that at the time he was so busily engaged that he very reluctantly declined the position. A few months afterward his name was again certified, and he was again selected and tendered a position at the same salary. He again in a very curt ious and business like letter, declined the position for business reasons. He appeared at the department to day and called on the proper officers, and, after paying respects and thanking them for their selection, he stated that the reason he did not take the position at the times tendered, was that he had a business position that was now paying him $50,000 a year.

The veterans in the Secretary's office speak of this case as the most unique that ever came under their observation.—St Louis Globe Democrat.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Bilious ness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

It Was Rare Bird

Even in his youth Mark Twain was prone to an indulgence in joking. His father was at one time greatly interested in ornithology and was constantly on the lookout for rare specimens of the bird creation. He had several friends who were also enthusiasts on the subject of birds. Whenever one of them discovered a rare avis it was the custom to have a consultation.

Mark had been a witness to several of these bird inquests and had noted the delight the old men took in discussing a new found specimen. One day it occured to him to provide the Hannibal ornithologists with a real circus, in the form of a bird. He killed a crow and also a barnyard rooster. Plucking out the tail feathers of both the rooster and the crow, he substituted the rooster's tail for that of the crow producing a very unique effect.

When he had the specimen nicely prepared he went to his father and handing it to him said:

"Here, father, is a very curious bird I shot. I thought you would be interested in it."

The old gentleman gazed upon the specimen in amazement.

That evening the ornithologists of Hannibal were assembled in Mr. Clemen's parlor. The rare specimen was put before them. The opinions expressed were various. One thought the bird was an offshoot of the bird of paradise family; others had an equally ridiculous notion as to its ancestry. But there was one who refused to be swerved by the peculiarity of the bird's tail from the judgement that it was of the crow family.

"Just look here," he said, lifting the bird by the tail feathers. He got no further. The feathers came out. There was a quick closing of the door. Mr. Clemens started to leave the room. "Gentlemen," he said "please excuse me for a few minutes. I will see Samuel first and explain later."

Half-Sick

"I first used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the fall of 1846. Since then I have taken it every spring as a blood-purifying and nerve-strengthening medicine."
S. T. Jones, Wichita, Kans.

If you feel run down, are easily tired, if your nerves are weak and your blood is thin, then begin to take the good old standard family medicine, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

It's a regular nerve lifter, a perfect blood builder. $1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

Ask your doctor what he thinks of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He knows all about this time-tried old family medicine. Follow his advice and we will be satisfied.

Chamberlin's Cough Remedy a Great Favorite

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with people every where. It is especially praised by mothers of small children for colds croup and whooping cough as it always affords quick relief and as it contains no opium nor other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

Sid Darling, 1012 Howard's Port Huron, Mich., writes: I have tried many pills and laxatives but Dewitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills I ever used. They never gripe. Haydon & Robertson.

Narrow Escape.

Samuel Carey and little daughter, from Washington county, had a narrow escape from being killed by a train at Lexington street crossing this afternoon. They were in a spring wagon and as the horse was jerked off the track, the engine grazing the animal as it shot past. The child jumped, but escaped injury. There are three crossings in Harrodsburg at which the Council should force the road to place flagmen. But we have long since come to the conclusion that it will never be done until a casuality occurs and then it will be a case of locking the door after the horse is gone. It is true that it would cost the company something; but the management of the road shows the town no consideration, and why should any be shown it. Besides, when public safety is at stake nothing else should be considered.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

Consumption Threatened.

D. Unger 212 Maple St., Champion Ill writes; I was troupled with a hacking cough for a year I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since. Wood & Wimsatt.

Wheat Crop.

The best authorities estimate the wheat crop of the United Kingdom to be 56,000,000 bushels; France, 300 000 000 bushels; Belgium and Holland 40, 000 000 bushels, a total of 396,000,000 for the great wheat importing area of Northwestern Europe, which needs only 400,000,000 bushels. America, which needs only 400,000,000 bushels has 675,000,000 bushels and is able to deal with the great deficit single handed.

Last of the Tollivers.

Frank and James Johnson, of Burgin, came home last week from Morehead, where they had been working on a new railroad and when interviewed gave an interesting account of the murder of "Old Fin" Tolliver, the day before they left for home. Old Fin was 65, and was among the last of the feudists by that name; that is of those old enough to fight. Old Fin's death was the result of his 4th of July celebration. That day he got on a tear, and disembowled a man named Moore. This was done with the hope of starting another feud. It had been several years since Fin had been in one. On Monday week, Harvey Moore, brother of the man who was out on the 4th, and an old man himself, got drunk and concluded to renew the trouble. Accordingly he took down his big cap and ball 45 and tried to see if it would "go". It went all right and shot his wife in the hand, but old Harvey didn't have time to stop and sympathise—it was time for the feud to start, so he hastened down town looking right and left for Tollivers. A few moments later he found old man Fin reared back in a chair in the village barber shop and without warning he coolly put a ball through old Fin's forehead and another just above his heart. He then left the building and hastened to the nearby hills where he joined his relatives. In the meantime the Tollivers, all boys, got together and ready for war. While this was going on the police and county officers were making a great deal of fuss in a bluff at searching for the murderer.

But the thing didn't turn out to suit old Harvey; there wasn't enough excitement in the chase and the feudists were not enthusiastic enough, so he got disorganged and surrendered to the officers and was lodged in jail at Mt. Sterling.—Harrodsburg Sayings.

Many physicians are now prescribing Kodol Dyspepsia Cure regularly having found that it is the best perscription they can write because it is the one preparation which contains the elements necessary to digest not only some kinds of food but all kind therefore it cures indigestion and dyspepsia no matter what its cause. Haydon & Robertson.

B. W. Pussel Kintersville, Pa., says he suffered 25 years with piles and could get no relief until DeWitt's Witch Hazle Salve effected a permanent cure. Counterfits are worthless. Haydon & Robertson.

Orphan Brigade.

The Orphan Brigade will hold its annual reunion in Louisville, September next. There are 300 known members of the Orphan Brigade still alive. It is expected that this year's reunion will be the largest in its history. Old Confederates will come from all over the State and from many other states to meet their former comrades and swap war yarns. An extensive programme of entertainment will be arranged for the veterans. Some of these old heroes are growing very feeble, and it will probably be the last reunion that many of them will attend. The last Commander of the Brigade General Joseph H. Lewis, will be on hand. September 20, the date chosen for the reunion, is the anniversary of the battle of Chickamauga, in which the Orphan Brigade took a prominent part.

A never failing cure for cuts, burns scalds ulcers wounds and sores is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A most soothing and healing remedy for all skin affections. Accept only the genuine. Haydon & Robertson's.

Drowned in the Beech.

ALEX OVERTON, a colored man about 25 years old, was drowned in the Beech Fork river, near the St. Thomas ford, last Sunday evening. According to Jim Adams and Koeter Batsel, the only witnesses to the drowning, Overton was very much in to xicated. They all got into a skiff for the purpose of crossing the river so as to set out some trot lines. When near the middle of the stream Overton fell out of the boat into the water and it was with difficulty Batsel and Adams succeeded in rescuing him. They then continued their course, but had gone but a little distance when Overton again fell into the river. This time he did not rise to the face and his companions went to town to give the alarm before they reached here. When they met several parties and returned to the scene of drowning and the body was recovered. An inquest was held and a verdict returned in accordance with the above facts.—Nelson Standard.

Robbed on a Train

A bold case of pocket picking occured on the L. & N. road between Shepherdsville and Lebanon Junction Thursday evening of last week. Just as the train had rolled out of Shepherdsville an old gentleman named Hall was about to take a seat, when a young man took him by the arm and pulled him back, saying that he had his seat. The young man apparently relented, and Mr. Hays to sit down when he stepped into the toilet closet.

The old gentleman soon discovered that his pocket book was missing and notified the conductor. The conductors searched that the young man had stolen the pocket book and knowing that he went in to the closet undertook to open the door, but it was locked. He soon unlocked the door, but no one was inside. The pickpocket had escaped through the window while the train was in motion.

Have you a sense of fullness in the region of your stomach after eating? If so you will be benefited by using Chamberlin's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They also cure belching, sour stomach, headache, dizziness, bowels in order. Price 25c. Sold by Haydon & Robertson.

We are authorized to announce BYRON CROAKE as a candidate for the office of Sheriff Washington county, November election 1901. Deputies, Sidney Osborne, Ed Master, Richard Isham.

We are authorized to announce G. A. JOHONEY

As a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Representative from Washington county, November election 1901.

It is said that impeachment proceedings may be instituted before the coming session of the General Assembly against certain members of the judiciary of some of the mountain counties because of their refusal to comply with the law and deliver to the authorities Berry Howard and John L. Powers, who are under indictment for complicity in the Goebel assassination.

The second trial of James Howard charged with the murder of William Goebel will come up in the Franklin Circuit Court next week. Howard has engaged as counsel Col. James Andrew Scott. James A. Violett and Thomas R. Gordon and feels confident of result.

According to the popular theory the coal consumers will catch it now. A news item says that a gigantic coal trust, including the bituminous coal mining properties in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and West Virginia, will be formed by J. Pierpont Morgan.

A Plethora of Peaches.

Elizabethtown and surrounding country is now experiencing the greatest peach glut ever known. It is peaches everywhere. At the depot the small boy plies his trade with each passing train and raises a terrific din with "peaches! peaches! peaches!" The express office is crowded and jambed with crate after crate of the luscious fruit until the eye gets tired of looking at them. At every grocery store lining the sidewalk are piles and baskets of the same. The long line of never ending wagons that come to town are all loaded with the same fruit. Everybody has had peaches until they can hold no more. It is a peach glut sure enough this time and the glut has knocked out the glutton. A distiller offered fifteen cents a bushel for the fruit, he took and he had to withdraw the offer in two days to keep from being covered down in peaches. In many orchards hogs have been let in to eat the rotting fruit. Wood & Wimsatt.

How To Gain Flesh

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce of SCOTT'S EMULSION. It is strange, but it often happens.

Somehow the ounce produces the pound; it seems to start the digestive machinery going properly, so that the patient is able to digest and absorb his ordinary food, which he could not do before, and that is the way the gain is made.

A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health; if you have not got it you can get it by taking

Scott's Emulsion

You will find it just as useful in summer as in winter, and if you are thriving upon it don't stop because the weather is warm.

Commissioner's Sale.

Washington Circuit Court Ky.

Richard C. Boblitt, Pl'ff. } EQUITY: Against.
Richard Barlow, Def'd.

In obedience to an order of the Washington Circuit Court made and entered at the May term, 1901, of the Washington Circuit Court in the above styled cause I shall proceed to offer at the residence of the late Peter Barlow, about one-half mile from Booker on the road leading to Mooresville, in Washington County, Ky., on at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, to the highest bidder at public auction upon a credit of one, two and three years the following described three tracts of land all situated in said county, to-wit:

The place known as the home place about one-half mile east of Booker Station in Washington County, Ky., and bounded on the north by the Booker turnpike road, on the east by Matthew Traax, on the south by J. A. Tucker and on the west by Mrs. Jas. Settles. Containing 85 acres with good dwelling and outbuildings.

Also the place known as the widow Susie Goatley's place, bounded on the north by Mrs. Ida Keeling, on the east by the old Peter Goatley place, on the south by Mrs. Rebecca Goatley, and on the west by F. B. Seay. Containing 87 acres with good dwelling and good outbuildings.

Also the place known as the old Richard Barlow place bounded on the north by Sallie A. Benedict, on the east by Theo. Mimms, on the south by Palmer Goatley and on the west by Mrs. Annie G. Sharp. Containing 180 3-4 acre with two good dwellings and outbuildings. This place may be divided so as to suit the purchaser.

All these farms contain good tobacco land and are well timbered and on good roads.

For the purchase price the purchaser or purchasers, with approved security or sureties, must execute bonds bearing legal interest from date of sale until paid and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be required to comply promptly with these terms.

Special Commissioner

Consumption Threatened.

C. Unger 212 Maple St., Champion I writes; I was troupled with a hacking cough for a year I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months, I used one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since. Wood & Wimsatt.

Brotherliness in Brockton.

Here is a story told by Professor Barrett Wendell about Dr. William Everett. The latter was going out to Brockton one night to deliver an address and ran across Mr. Wendell in the Old Park square station. "Come along, Wendell," he said. "I am going out to Brockton to speak, and I want some one respectable to sit on the platform with me." So the professor went along.

When Everett arose to speak, the hall, which was a large one, was only passably well filled, and even the comparatively small number present began to grow smaller as one by one people slipped away. Mr. Wendell began to think that Brockton must be a singularly cold hearted place when suddenly he noticed people coming two's and threes and silently taking seats wherever they could find them. Soon the hall was full, with standing room only, but still they came till the aisles and walls were lined with interested listeners.

The supposed deserters had simply gone out and told the people of Brockton that here was the greatest man they'd ever heard and gathered them in by the score.—Boston Herald.

Won by His Wit.

A story is told of an English clergyman who owed his appointment to a rich living to a lucky pun. He was tutor to the son of a nobleman and had not long taken orders when he attended the funeral of the rector of the parish in which the nobleman's seat was situated.

The father of his pupil was patron of the living and was also present at the funeral of the deceased rector. There was a young clergyman present who whose grief was so demonstrative that the noble patron was much affected by the sight and asked if the young man was a son of the deceased gentleman.

"Oh, dear, no, my lord—no relation at all," said the tutor.

"No relation!" exclaimed the nobleman in a surprised tone.

"Noise, my lord; he is the curate, and I think he is not weeping for the dead, but for the living."

His lordship, who was something of a wit and a cynic himself, was so delighted with the bonmot that he conferred the living upon the ready punster.

How They Do In China.

In China liquids are sold by weight and grain by measure. John buys soap by the pound and cloth by the foot. A Chinaman never puts his name outside of his shop, but paints instead a motto or a list of his goods on his vertical signboard. Some reassuring remark is frequently added, such as "One word half," "A child two feet high would not be cheated." Every single article has to be bargained for, and it is usual for the customer to take his own measure and scales with him.

When you engage a servant or make a bargain, it is not considered binding until "the fastening penny" has been paid. Although his bad faith is notorious in some matters, yet, to do him justice, when once this coin has been paid by you he Chinaman, coolie or shopman will generally stick to his bargain even if the result to him be loss.

Cigars Are Rights and Lefts.

"It is not always because a cigar is badly made that the wrapper curls up and works off," said a tobacco dealer. "It is often because a right handed man is smoking a left handed cigar. Sounds strange, hey? Well, a left handed cigar is one rolled by the maker's left hand, for all cigar makers must be ambidextrous. A piece of tobacco for a wrapper is cut on the bias and is rolled from left to right on the filler. The other piece, for reasons of economy is then used and must be rolled the opposite way by the operator's other hand. Hence a smoker who holds his cigar in his right hand sometimes in twisting it about rubs the wrapper the wrong way and unloosens it."—Philadelphia Times.

The Fishing Otter.

The otter used by Scottish poachers is one of the most deadly fishing instruments known. In some waters is is far more effective than a net. It may be described as a water kite, which serves to take out over the water a line bearing 50 or more flies. The otter itself is a floating piece of board fluted along one edge to keep it upright. The poacher walks along the side of loch or river, letting out the fly decorated line as he goes, the otter board gradually working out toward the center. An enormous area of water is fished at one time and numbers of fish are killed.

An Awakener.

A preacher, raising his eyes from his desk in the midst of his sermon, was paralyzed with amazement to see his rude son in the gallery pelting the hearers in the pews below with horse chestnuts. But while the good man was preparing a frown of reproof the young hopeful cried out:

"You 'tend to your preaching, daddy, I'll keep 'em awake."

"Growing Down."

Everybody has noticed that in extreme old age people grow rapidly shorter, so that a person formerly of average height "grows down" into quite a diminutive man or woman. A German contemporary points out that this decrease of height begins as early as the age of 35 years. At 35, we are told, the human body has reached its full height, which is retained for a few years, after which the "growing down" process begins. At first and for many years the process is so slow as to be almost imperceptible, but at the age of about 60 it begins to be noticeable, and, after 70, even though a veteran does not stoop at all, the fact that he is "growing down" becomes apparent to one and all.

A Moody Retort.

A religious enthusiast, whose hobby was anti-Catholicism, went to the great evangelist one day and put the direct question: "Mr. Moody, do you ever intend to do any preaching against the Catholics?"

"Yes, I may some time."

"When will that be?"

"After the Protestants are converted."

HOUSEWORK

Too much housework wrecks women's nerves. And the constant care of children, day and night, is often too trying for even a strong woman. A haggard face tells the story of the overworked housewife and mother. Dragging headaches, leucorrhœa and falling of the womb result from overwork. Every housewife needs a remedy to regulate her menses and to keep her sensitive female organs in perfect condition.

WINE OF CARDUI

is doing this for thousands of American women to-day. Edward Mrs. Jones and that is why she writes this frank letter:

Glendenin, Ky., Feb. 16, 1901.

I am so glad that your Wine of Cardui is helping me. I am feeling better than I have felt for years. I am doing my own work without any help, and I washed last week and was not one bit tired. That shows that the Wine is doing me good. I am getting fleshier than I ever was before and sleep good and eat hearty. Before I began taking Wine of Cardui, I used to have to lay down five or six times every day, but now I do not think of lying down through the day.

He Was No Hog.

"Well," said the doctor, peeping into the room where Wellington Frash, the great poker expert, was waiting for the returns, "I suppose you will regard this as a mere formality, but I must congratulate you nevertheless on the fact that you have a fine boy across the hall."

"Hit!" said Mr. Frash. "That's good! Come in and take something."

"Excuse me for a moment," the doctor replied. Presently he returned, put his head into Mr. Frash's den and said: "Let me congratulate you again. You have two fine boys across the hall."

Mr. Frash opened his mouth as if to respond, but before he could do so the doctor was gone again. Presently he bounded in the new father's presence, saying: "By George, you have three fine boys across the hall!"

He was starting back when Mr. Frash hurried forward, grasped him by the shoulder and in excited tones cried:

"Say, doc, hold on. Three of a kind are good enough for me. I stand pat."—Chicago Herald.

The Earthquake.

To the average resident of the temperate zones an earthquake is a rare and terrible event, creating more consternation than any other visitation of nature. In the tropics, however, particularly in Central America, it is wonderful how easily the residents become accustomed to these shocks, which do not come, however, wholly without warning.

You are sitting on a piazza on a hot afternoon chatting with your friends when suddenly the sky seems to grow hazy and the crows stop cawing. There is a general rush, and, though you may not know what is the matter, you cannot help feeling uneasy.

The old natives say, "We're going to have a little shake," and then the house begins to rock, the timbers fall off the table, you feel deathly sick at the stomach, and the thing is all over. The sky clears, the crows begin their noisy screams, and things are soon put right again.

The Chances in Policy.

The retired "poke" shopkeeper was explaining to his interested hearers some of the mysteries of his former business.

"The chances of winning at the policy game," he said, "are about like this: You take a bushel basket and fill it with small white beans. Then you put one small black bean into the basket and shake the lot up. After that go to some 'skyscraper' building, say one about 20 stories high, and place a penny on the sidewalk in front of it. This done, shoulder your bushel of beans and take the elevator to the roof of the building. Then lean over the edge of the roof and, aiming at the cent on the sidewalk below, dump out the beans in the basket all together. Then hurry down on the elevator and rush out to the sidewalk. If you find that the black bean has fallen upon the penny, you win."—New York Times.

The Silliest Birds.

Dodo is the Portuguese name for simpleton, and it is given to the silliest bird that Ager lived. Three hundred years ago, when the Portuguese first visited the island of Mauritius, they found a large number of these birds. They were about the size of a large swan, blackish gray in color and having only a bunch of feathers in place of a tail and little, useless wings. More stupid and foolish birds could not be imagined. They ran about making a noisy, hissing noise like a goose, and the sailors easily knocked them over with their paddles. They couldn't fly, they couldn't swim, they couldn't run at any great speed, and, as for fighting, they were the greatest cowards in the world. They were much too stupid to build a nest, and so they dropped an egg and went off to let it hatch as best it could.

A Patti Satire.

During one of Adelina Patti's last tours in the United States, the following preliminary notice was published by a western editor:

"Mme. Patti Nicolini, the eminent vocalist and farewellist, will come to us for positively the last time next year. All those who expect to die before the year after next will do well to hear the human nightingale on this trip, for Patti never says goodby twice in the same year, and to die without hearing her is like buying two thousand dollar note is to seek the hereafter in woeful ignorance of the heights to which a woman with good lungs, a castle in Wales and who only uses one kind of soap can soar when she tries."

Most Satisfying.

They were speaking of the billionaire's insufferable pretensions.

"Upon what meat does this our Cæsar feed that he has grown so great?" exclaimed Mordaunt bitterly.

"Mine's meat, possibly?" observed Meltravers, trying to be cheaply witty while yet preserving the easy grace of a man of the world.—Detroit Free Press.

Read this list and see if there is anything upon it that you like. If so write for further particulars and you will be answered in full. Write promptly, as any of them are here to be sold and at any time. If you don't see what you want here hand this to your neighbor and write me, as I have others, and will be glad to answer you. I have refused every entry that in my judgment was priced above the market current of its class, and those that have listed their farms with me want to sell badly, not because they want a profit, but because some of them want to go into other business and others need the money, and now is your chance for bargains. I am prepared to fill your demand.

THE RIGHT THING TO PUT ON.
(Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master.)

From the natural impulse to "put something on" a painful spot all applications for the relief of pain have arisen.

The most successful have ever been poultices, or plasters, and the best of these is Benson's Porous Plaster.

No other has anything like the same power as a curative; nor is it in highly and scientifically medicated, and its standard is advanced year by year.

Use Benson's Plaster for coughs, colds, chest diseases, rheumatism, grip, neuralgia, kidney trouble, lame back, and other ailments that make Winter a season of suffering and danger. It relieves and cures quicker than any other remedy.

Do not accept Capsicum, Strengthening or Belladonna plasters in place of Benson's, as they possess none of its curative power. Insist on having the genuine.

The people of every civilized land have testified for years to the superlative merit of Benson's Plasters, and 5,000 physicians and druggists of this country have declared them worthy of public confidence.

In official comparisons with others, Benson's Plasters have been honored with fifty-five highest awards.

For sale by all druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on the receipt of 25c. each. Accept no imitation or substitute.

The remains of Mrs Julia A. Ryan who died at the Lakeland Asylum on Tuesday, were brought here yesterday for burial. The deceased was the wife of W. H. Ryan of this place and was 77 years of age. She was well known in the county as a good christian woman. About three years ago she became mentally unbalanced and was sent to Lakeland where she died. The funeral will take place this morning at St. Dominics church.

Death of Capt Smith

Capt. John Smith a former citizen of this place died at his home in Louisville on last Friday and his remains were brought to this place and buried in St. Rose cemetery on Saturday morning. Capt. Smith was born in this county on June 24, 1838, made this his home until some time after the war when he moved to Louisville. He was at one time proprietor of the old Springfield Hotel and was quite an influential citizen of this place. He served with distinction through the civil war being captain in the First Kentucky regiment under Gen. Wolford. He was a brother of Mrs. Mary A. Noe of this place. His wife and several grown children survive him.

Fetter Noe.

Mrs. Leonora Elizabeth Fetter of Louisville and Mr. Stith T. Noe of this place, were married at the Cathedral, Louisville on last Friday, Rev. Father Schuman officiating. The announcement of the marriage came as a big surprise to the many friends of Mr. Noe at this place, who had come to regard him as a confirmed bachelor. It seems that the marriage was the sequel to an old romance the two having been sweethearts several years ago when Mrs. Noe, that now is, was a Miss Walsh and when Mr. Noe lived in Louisville. Chance brought about a meeting between themquite recently and old the spark was rekindled and the day set for the wedding to occur in October. While Mr. Noe was attending the Knights Templar conclave however they decided to get married at once. Mr. and Mrs. Noe came in Saturday and are at the Noe residence on Main street.

Died in Illinois

The following from the Macomb (Ill.) Journal tells of the death of a former Washington county boy:

Posten Tamey, a young man about 20 years of age, was drowned while bathing in Spoon river just above the dam at Babylon, about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He left here the first of the week with a camping party of some 15 ladies and gentlemen.

Complete particulars of the sad affair are impossible to give at present, as none of the party accompanied the remains, owing to missing connections. They are expected home this evening. He was bathing with some of the young men when he was seized with cramps. The water was about four inches over his head at that place. Every possible effort was made by his companions to save him, and one young man, Clem Nooper, got hold of his arm, but he was a big heavy man and he could not get him out. The body was in the water about 40 minutes.

An inquest was held and a verdict of accidental drowning was returned. The body was then taken to Prarie City where it remained last night. His two brothers went to that place this morning and took charge of the remains, bringing them to this city where they were taken to the residence of Alfred Sturgeon on South Johnson street, and this afternoon will be removed to the residence of his brother Will in Scotland township. The funeral services will be held from Ebenezar church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment in Camp creek cemetery.

Deceased was born in Mackville, Ky., June 3, 1881, and came to this city about two years ago. He attended the Normal here the past year and lately had been working at the Randolph House. He leaves two brothers, Lem of this city and Will of Scotland township, and two sisters living in Kentucky. His parents are both dead. He was a young man of many admirable qualities and made many friends during his short residence. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of this city.

HOW IS THIS?

Crushed Corn Fodder.

Profitable farming made certain by using a small machine that will cut and crush corn fodder, making a feed that is just as good for horses, cattle and sheep, too for ton, as best timothy hay. Attend the Washington county fair and see this wonderful machine on exhibition and samples of its work. Every farmer in the county ought to see the Lion Cutter and Crusher.
